AMERICANS SEEK LATINS' BUSINESS

International Trade Exhibit Scheduled to Open in New Orleans

By J. C. ROYLE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925
CHICAGO, June 3.—Merchants and manufacturers of the United States are preparing to make a real and determined effort to capture the trade of the 100,000,000 people of Latin-America. They have finally come to the conclusion that they cannot Americanize their Latin-American customers. They realize that the trade is worth having and are taking steps to show Latin-America what they have to sell and find out what the Southern countries want to buy.

Many producers and distributors are preparing to do this through the International Trade Exhibition which will open at New Orleans next September. This exhibition will consist of a permanent display of products and will offer facilities where buyer and seller can meet on common ground. The project is endorsed by the Federal government and officials and will be housed in one of the $6,000,000 government army base buildings.

The exhibition is counted on to cut the cost of doing business with Latin-America for both buyer and seller and to establish an understanding which hitherto has never existed between producer and consumer of North, Central and South America.

Going After Trade

The project is not a profit-making one. Manufacturers are charged a nominal rental of $3 a square foot a year for space occupied by their exhibits. In addition, they secure heat, light, telephone, stenographic and interpreter service. The amount received above the cost of running the exhibit, estimated at approximately $2 a square foot, will go into a co-operative advertising and selling fund and to bring buyers to the exhibition. If a manufacturer does not care to incur the expense of a selling organization to take charge of the exhibits, the organization will arrange such service for a nominal sum.

The expense of "going after" the Latin-American trade, which has deterred many American firms, undoubtedly will be cut by this project. Buyers from Latin countries will not have to visit a half dozen distant cities to make their selections. They can avoid going further than the nearest large port to their own homes and still be able to do business on advantageous terms.

Few manufacturers care to incur the expenses of widespread selling campaigns in the countries to the south, but are most anxious to attract buyers to this country. Many producers consider it money well spent to assume expense of bringing South American buyers to their factories. Through the new scheme, they can achieve approximately the same effect by means of personal contact at the exhibition. They can if they choose show every detail of production by means of motion picture.

Foreigners Invited

The exhibition is not confined to displays by American manufacturers. Foreign makers can make their goods there if they so desire. The idea is simply to bring together the sellers of world merchandise and the buyers from all sections. The exhibit also will provide opportunity for producers of the east and west to get into closer touch with buyers of their respective sections since the increased traffic through the Panama Canal has opened shipping facilities between the two ports of this country, making New Orleans an especially available port of meeting.

The project has been enthusiastically received by manufacturers, labor leaders and state officials of New York and this state will be represented by a state exhibit in addition to the showings of individual manufacturers. Producers of the territory tributary to the Mississippi waterway also count heavily on securing by this means a decided increase in foreign trade.

SENATOR HANDS WETS DEATH BLOW

King, of Utah, Says Congress Without Power To Act In Modifying Laws

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
For International News Service.
WASHINGTON, June 3.—A death blow to the hopes of wets that the national prohibition law may be repealed if the Coolidge administration's rum war fails, was sounded here today by Senator William H. King, Democrat, Utah, who led Congressional opposition to enactment of the eighteenth amendment.

King declared there can be no real change in the dry statute, even though the government finally confesses its inability to properly enforce the law. To restore old-fashioned beer and other intoxicating liquors, he said, would require a constitutional amendment with its ratification by thirty-six states. Such an overthrow of prohibition, he added, is hopeless during the present generation.

The only possible modification King asserted, might come by action of Congress to legalize 2.75 per cent beer and wine. This percentage of alcoholic content, he explained, has already been termed "non-intoxicating" by government experts and therefore is not banned by the eighteenth amendment.

Congress Lacks Power
"No matter how much a failure the government's prohibition drive becomes, Congress will be without the power to repeal or to liberalize the law," said King, "I see no possibility, certainly no probability, of any modification of the eighteenth amendment. The only real modification must come through a constitutional amendment and that virtually is an impossibility. Without such an amendment, Congress is powerless to legalize the sale or manufacture of any intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes."

The wets, King said, will have to be satisfied with an effort to legalize 2.75 per cent beer and wine. A drive for this modification is anticipated.

BRIDGE OVER ARTISTS PLAN L. A. RIVER DISCUSSED FOUR PLAYS AT CLUB

C. C. Approves Negotiations With L. A. For Span At West Broadway

Negotiations with the city of Los Angeles for the installation of a temporary bridge at West Broadway over the Los Angeles river, completing a thoroughfare from Griffith park and Riverside drive into downtown Glendale, via Broadway, were given the approval of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

A formal resolution passed by the board of directors advocates the installation of the bridge and calls for a special committee of the chamber to co-operate with the Glendale Planning commission, the West Broadway Improvement association and other organizations in pushing plans for the temporary span.

O. M. Newby, appearing before the chamber directors, pointed out that, with the widening and illuminating of West Broadway and the opening of a new crossing over the Southern Pacific right-of-way, the street will be carried as far as the river bank. An inexpensive bridge which it is declared the city of Los Angeles is ready to install in the event Glendale is found to favor the project will give access to Griffith park and the proposed Riverside drive on the Los Angeles side of the river.

Mr. Newby is president of the West Broadway Improvement association, an organization that is vitally interested in the installation of the proposed bridge. The chamber committee, to be named later by President D. H. Smith, will meet with the Improvement association on Friday night and lay further plans, he announced.

Added interest to the program is the fact that the curtain raiser will be "If the Shoe Fits—" by Mrs. Max Lynn Green, also a past curator of the drama department. This sketch won second prize in the play contest staged by the American Citizenship department of Los Angeles District, California Federation of Women's clubs.

The setting is a living room in an American home, and taking part will be Charles Temple, Jr., Barbara Green, Howard Kent, Phoebe Vandewater, R. Ernest Tucker, Mrs. Max Lynn Green, Mrs. T. C. Young, Mrs. Charles H. Gowan.

Following this there will be three one-act plays, "The Reader" by Ada Tully Ammerman; "Such Is Fame" by Herbert Swears; and "Smarty's Party" by George Kelly, first presented at the Palace theatre, New York City.

Taking part in "The Reader" will be Mrs. Malvern C. Barker, Mrs. Colin Cable, Mrs. W. F. Nash, Jr., Mrs. A. M. Hunt, Sister Kent, Mrs. Max Lynn Green, Mrs. H. W. Ralston. The scene is a living room in a New York boarding house.

Trio to Appear
The setting for "Such Is Fame" is a flat in Very West Kensington, with a cast including Mrs. Dwight W. Stephenson, Mrs. J.

Forest Lawn Memorial Day Crowd 25,727

A total of 25,727 persons visited Forest Lawn Memorial park on Memorial day, in 5878 automobiles and walking, according to a report to Chief of Police John D. Fraser today by C. B. Boynton, development engineer of the park.

Commenting on the efficient manner in which it handled the crowds at the gateway, and voicing appreciation of the co-operation on the part of police officers, Boynton said that "throughout the entire day we found your officers with whom we came in contact to be courteous and obliging."

The count at the gate was made with a hand tallying machine, Boynton said, and "it was accurate." The greatest number of people entered the park between 2 and 3 o'clock in the afternoon, although there were 6463 who visited the park between 10 and 12 o'clock in the forenoon.

Pianist To Be Feature Of 'Concert Unusual'

Mrs. Roy A. Ballagh, president of the Glendale Art association, who is directing the program for the "Concert Unusual" to be given Friday night at the Van Grove studio, announces that as a special feature, Feodor Kolin, pianist and composer, will play the second act of his ballet, "La Primavera."

This will be the first hearing of this ballet music in America. The whole ballet was produced in London, where Dr. Kolin was director of the International orchestra. He is the youngest musician to have had the activities of a musical conservatory under his personal direction and he has played before members of the royalty in different countries of Europe.

Mrs. Ballagh also announces that she will have numbers by Beulah Starr Lewis, who will give monologues, and Fumi Iwasaki, a Japanese pianiste, who will appear in Oriental costume.

NOBLES ENJOY HOSPITALITY OF SOUTH IN PLEA FOR SLOT BOX

Spend Their Time In Doing About All Things But Sleeping, It Seems

By GIL A. COWAN
For Southland News Service.
LOS ANGELES, June 3.—Al Malaikah temple, representing Los Angeles, having officially fallen into the hands of the invading hosts of Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, there is no reason to doubt the capture complete. Here, there, everywhere, today, all over the Southland, from San Bernardino and its burning sands to Santa Catalina with its moistened shores, the Shriners of America are cavorting in the midst of their six days' and six nights' feast of fun. A little rain doesn't interfere with the frolic.

Calliopes, chanters, bands, drum corps, clariions; uniformed knights, southerners, westerners, Indians, scholars, business men, New Englanders, someone from ever state in the Union and its island possessions, many from Chicago, Boston, New York and other centers of population; mixing with the million population in one great holiday, night and day; ceaselessly, carelessly, happily; eating, drinking, visiting, and maybe sleeping for an hour or two.

That is the mixture of words that briefly gives a glimpse of what is going on. Pistols crackling, drums booming, gas cannons exploding throughout the night, frying pans clattering on the streets and sirens shrieking, give some idea of the noise. Theatres jammed, hotel lobbies filled with seething humanity, downtown streets impassable for motor cars, trolley traffic moving at a snail's pace and everyone on parade, paints a picture of the milling crowd.

On this third day of the conclave something is doing every minute of the day, with thousands of handmen and uniformed patrol members being transported to Catalina island, and others taken through the orange empire, and

FRAUD HINTED IN PLEA FOR SLOT BOX

Druggist Denies Knowledge Of Application To Council
For Slot Machine

Branding the signatures on an application presented yesterday to the City Council to operate a nickel slot machines at the Maryland pharmacy, 200 East Wilson avenue, as "fraudulent," C. F. Stuart, proprietor of the establishment today declared that he will refuse to permit any machines of that type to be installed in his place of business in the event that an ordinance now pending allowing their use in Glendale is adopted.

The application officially filed by the Western Vending Machine Co., 2713 Third street, Ocean Park, was tabled by the council until the proposed ordinance is finally acted upon. It follows: "The undersigned hereby petition your honorable body for two licenses to operate two Jennings automatic mint venders, all located within the city limits of Glendale."

"C. W. Greelee service station, 820 South Brand boulevard; signed by Clyde W. Greelee. Machine to be operated at cigar counter."

"The Maryland pharmacy, 200 East Wilson avenue. Signed by E. L. M. C. C. Graham. Machine to be operated on cigar counter." Stuart said today that he had been approached several times by representatives of the slot machine company, but that he had persistently refused to do business with them.

Fraud Hinted
"I told them flatly that I would have nothing to do with machines of that nature," he declared. "As to the signatures on the application, I don't know where they came from. I know of no person with the initials, 'E. L. M.' nor do I know who C. C. Graham is. One of the representatives of the slot machine concern was introduced to me as 'Graham,' I believe."

"The application was filed with

Glendale Is Visited by Light Shower

Drizzling rain began falling in Glendale at an early hour this morning, and by 11 o'clock had added .16 of an inch to the season's rainfall, according to H. E. Bartlett of 333 West Broadway. The seasonal record was boosted to 10.78 inches. One year ago the season's record stood at 8.75 inches.

Want Bus Lines To Put Glendale On Itinerary

An effort to induce tourist sight-seeing bus lines to route their trips through Glendale will be made by the Glendale Chamber of Commerce. Directors of the chamber were told yesterday that of the thirty to forty sight-seeing bus lines operating in and around Los Angeles and taking in virtually every other city of consequence in the metropolitan area, Glendale is visited by none.

Reasons for this apparent desire on the part of the stage companies to eliminate Glendale from their itineraries will be sought by Secretary Howard I. Wood, who was instructed to act in the matter by the board of directors. Secretary Wood urged that busses be induced to come through Glendale declaring that tourists generally take this means of seeing Southern California and often form permanent opinions from what they see on such trips. Many of them are "sold" on certain communities in this way and later make these communities their permanent homes, he said.

League Members Plan Straw Vote On Bonds

Members of the Glendale Municipal league will take a straw vote on the separate items of the school bond issue at the meeting to be held Monday night at the Wilson Intermediate school, according to an announcement made today by H. V. Adams, president of the league. A detailed report will be given on the segregated items to be voted upon June 15. Dr. T. R. Crosswell will speak on the subject.

The question of diversion of surplus funds received as revenue from lights and water rates, which are being used for the erection of public buildings, will

TRACT ACTION TO WAIT ON COURT RULE

Chamber Not To Press Fight Against Electric Road
Until L. B. Decision

The Glendale Chamber of Commerce will not press its fight for lowering and paving of the Pacific Electric right-of-way on Brand boulevard for the present, awaiting final outcome of a suit now pending before the supreme court between the city of Long Beach and the railway company in which a number of points in common with the Glendale controversy are expected to be definitely and finally settled. A decision from the high tribunal to which the Pacific Electric made appeal after a verdict had been rendered against the company in a lower court, is expected within two months. After that the chamber directors will bring pressure upon the city of Glendale to proceed immediately with condemnation proceedings against the street car company.

The delay until after a final settlement has been reached in the Long Beach case was approved by the chamber directors upon recommendation of Mayor Harry G. MacBain and City Attorney Ray Morrow. Attorney Morrow declared that by waiting, the city will be saved considerable expense and the perplexity of the condemnation proceedings will be greatly lessened.

Future Plans
The Glendale City Council and members of the transportation committee of the Chamber of Commerce headed by Bert P. Woodward, will confer on further action in the city's attempt to get lower fares to Los Angeles Thursday morning.

An appeal to the Railroad Commission to take a hand in the fare controversy was advocated by the chamber directors a week ago, after it had been brought out that negotiations between City Manager Virgil B. Stone and officials of the railway company had been terminated without any satisfactory agreement being reached.

be brought up and discussed at the meeting, Mr. Adams said.

TRAFFIC KNOT PICTURED TO CHAMBER

Los Angeles Expert Explains
How Development Is Tied Up With Travel

That the business development and the economic stability of Glendale is intricately tied up with its traffic problems both internal and in relation to Los Angeles and other outside territory, and that the work of handling the existing problems can only be cared for satisfactorily by a special traffic commission such as has been formed here, were the declarations of Miller McClintock, traffic engineer, brought to Los Angeles from Boston a year ago to work out the major traffic highway plan for the metropolitan area. Dr. McClintock spoke before directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce during their regular meeting yesterday afternoon.

He urged co-operation of the chamber and all other organizations of the city with the Traffic commission in its efforts to develop adequate and logical highway and traffic plans for Glendale.

Aside from the internal street organization which will occupy the attention of the local commission, Dr. McClintock declared that two distinct problems face the city of Glendale from the standpoint of traffic development.

Bottle Neck Problem
First, the "bottle neck" condition at the south peak of the city where Glendale narrows upon its approach to the Los Angeles river, must be remedied by the installation of a comprehensive system of highways and bridges at that juncture, he said.

Secondly, the problem of adequate motor and rail transportation facilities in the westside industrial district between the Southern Pacific railroad tracks and the river bank must be met. These constitute the main portion of the work to be done by the commission at the outset, Dr. McClintock told the chamber directors.

"The experiment of a traffic commission in Glendale is, to my mind, one well worth trying out," he said. "The value of business

Daily Greeting to News Readers

NOTHING WORTH WHILE—

Was ever accomplished by watching the clock. Can be expected of one who is always telling hard luck stories. Ever resulted from passing the buck. Is accomplished by the one who will not earn more than he is paid. Was ever settled by a religious controversy. Ever needs to be promoted by fraudulent advertising.

FRIVOLITY DEFENDED

A woman syndicate writer defends the frivolity of the age in the matter of woman's dress and contends it is the men and not the women who are bringing about the extravagance. Men's eyes always turn toward the nifty dresser on the street and women know it, hence their effort to meet competition. Men compliment the little home body who does not use cosmetics or shingle her hair yet when they take a woman out where the lights are bright they take one who will attract attention by her manner of dress and the facility with which she uses her lipstick in public.

Sociologists tell us that when a woman's wardrobe consisted of a mother-hubard and a black silk dress and an abundance of coarse muslin underwear there was less divorce than now, also more discord and cruelty. There is no reason for a woman to sit moping in the chimney corner today. Life has too much to offer her. And men want their wives to appear stylish and attractive. As long as a woman remembers that there should be some sort of a relationship between her husband's income and the amount she spends for clothes there is not likely to be much friction or any baneful results from woman's frivolity.

THE BIG CONVENTION

Who can estimate in terms of friendship and good will the value of the Shrine convention now being held in Southern California? A national gathering of any kind is a promoter of harmony and one of such proportions as that now being held will be enormously fruitful, not only for the delegates and the cities visited, but for every city and village and hamlet that sends a representative to the big conclave, for these men cannot go back to their homes without carrying with them some of the carnival spirit and the brotherhood that characterize such a meeting. The value of fraternizing with people from different parts of the country cannot be overestimated.

We have no way of knowing how many lasting friendships will be formed at this meeting or how many pleasant memories of it will be treasured as long as life will last, but they will be many. And true friendships and happy memories are things that make the old world better.

On such an occasion as this it is for every one of us to feel hospitable, whether or not we have any connection with the Shriners, and to help make these visitors feel at home among us.

COMMUNITY ADVERTISING

One of the greatest forces in the world today is advertising. The public does not realize the extent to which it depends upon advertising. If all advertising of all kinds were to be withdrawn for a week the people would not know what to do. All business would be demoralized and the public would be like a ship without a rudder. The time is past when people go about searching for information as to the best place to buy or the best place to live. They expect this information brought to them, to be available when they want it. They wait to be attracted.

At the convention of Associated Advertising Clubs of the world in Houston it was brought out that community advertising in this country is mounting to the surprising total of $4,000,000 a year. The community that does not advertise is in the same class with the merchant of the same disposition—the spider spins his web across the door. The community that wishes to grow, the church that would extend its influence, the merchant who would have his business expand must go directly to the people.

TELEPHONE AS SALESMAN

According to a survey just concluded by the National Wholesale Grocers' association, retail grocers receive fifty per cent of their orders over the phone and these constitute seven-tenths of their total revenue. Facts established in the survey are the basis for a nation-wide "phone for food" campaign now being organized by the wholesale and retail grocers of the country.

There is no doubt that the telephone is the star salesman of any business. It works for a low salary and its expense account for tires and gas and hotel bills is nothing. Business men have not yet seen the marvelous possibilities of the telephone.

As for the housewife, there is no doubt the telephone is a great time-saver and a temptation, although the woman who is limited in the amount she spends on her table cannot afford to avail herself of its convenience. If she is compelled to get the most she can for the least money, or if she wishes to do so, she must do her marketing in person.

UNIVERSAL CONSCRIPTION

The idea of universal conscription in the event of war is so logical and sensible that it is gaining ground everywhere. Dr. Clinton H. Howard of New York, chairman of the World Peace Commission, now lecturing in California, says:

"In future wars we must conscript property and wealth as well as men. We must put money and property on a parity with humanity. If the government is to knock on the door of the home and say, 'I want your son,' it must knock on the door of the home and say, 'I want your money,' it must knock on the door of the home and say, 'I want your coal,' it must knock on the door of the oil trust and say, 'I want your oil.' Let its security be the same security offered the widow for her son—none except the honor of country and victory for the flag."

Congressman Butler, of the House Naval committee, recommends that Hawaii be made stronger than Gibraltar. This would beat several parchment documents as a preserver of the peace.

The cowboy mayor of Omaha and Secretary of Agriculture Jardine are going to have a calf-roping contest. We know of several statesmen who can put it all over both of them at throwing the bull.

SAME OLD BEAR—JUST IN A DIFFERENT TREE—THAT'S ALL!

Thomas Jefferson

By DR. FRANK CRANE

One of the justly great names in the history of the United States is Thomas Jefferson.

A movement is now on foot to raise money by public subscription in order that Monticello, his old home, should be cleared of debt and that a suitable monument to his memory be erected.

The respect paid to great men of former time is an indication of the value which a nation places upon services rendered by those men.

Thomas Jefferson has his name indissolubly bound up with the progress of freedom in the United States.

He wrote the Declaration of Independence, which has been called the greatest document of modern times.

He stood for religious freedom in an age of universal intolerance.

He was one of the first men to see that the greatest block to national wrongs was democracy, that the people could be trusted better than any kings.

At that time the popular government was as unpopular as the Bolshevik government is now in Russia.

Jefferson's policies were based upon the truth, upon intelligence and upon courage. All of these have been demonstrated by the course of things since his time.

The democracy which he advocated has spread from the United States throughout the whole western continent and to many places in Europe. It is undoubtedly the coming form of government in this world.

Jefferson died in want because he refused to avail himself of technicalities. He lived as he had died—a gentleman.

If the United States is to continue to prosper it must be along the lines laid down by the author of the Declaration of Independence.

It is right and fitting that all the people of small as well as of great nations should unite in giving to support this movement.

By honoring Thomas Jefferson the people of the United States honor themselves.

He was more than a democrat, although his name is usually linked with democracy. He was an American citizen, and lived and died giving his best service to his country.

It is proposed to restore and preserve Monticello, the original home of Jefferson. This is under the care of Fiske Kimball of New York University, and others.

Houses grow old and fall into decay unless they are continually tended, even as man needs attention.

The Board of Governors has invited all governors, mayors and heads of educational and patriotic organizations to appoint Jefferson Centennial committees. The reply to this invitation has been most gratifying.

Jefferson was not only a great man, but he stood for great and fundamental ideas in America, and we shall demonstrate that we appreciate his ideas if we fitly honor him.

The Best of Advice

By CLARK KINNAIRD

"We sow our thoughts, and we reap our actions; we sow our actions, and we reap our habits, and we reap our characters; we sow our characters, and we reap our destiny." In dictionaries of familiar quotations you will find this thought credited to no less than four men; but count—less others have expressed it, each in the belief it was original with him.

And it is true that according to CLARK KINNAIRD the habits we form—good or industrious, bad or good—our life, success and destiny depend.

One particular object lesson of some sort—a book, a play, a living example—will perhaps modify and color our whole lives. Hereward Carrington, the scientist, says that his whole life has been influenced by the following quotation from William James, which he read when about 19 years old:

"Let no youth have any anxiety about the upshot of his education, whatever the line of it may be. If he keeps faithfully busy each hour of the working day he may safely leave the final result to itself."

He can with perfect certainty count on waking up some fine morning to find himself one of the competent ones of his generation, in whatever pursuit he may have singled out.

"Silently, between all of the details of his business, the power of judging in that class of matter will have built itself up within him as a possession that will never pass away."

"Young people should know this truth in advance. The ignorance of it has probably engendered more discouragement and gait-heartedness in youths embarking on arduous careers than all other causes put together."

Much has been said about the best way to break a bad habit—whether to abolish it at once, or to taper it off by degrees—thus avoiding "shock." The consensus of opinion among psychologists seems to be that it is far better to break it off at once, PROVIDING ONE CAN STAND IT.

Similarly, the abrupt acquisition of a new habit is best, IF there is a real possibility of carrying it out.

If you set yourself an impossible task and fail to carry it out, this will leave you weaker than before.

But this is not necessary, we are told; slight tasks will serve just as useful purposes as more difficult ones in the formation of new habits.

And the ability to perform unpleasant tasks is the test of character.

Who's Who

No better man could have been selected to succeed Field Marshal Viscount Allenby as British High Commissioner for Egypt and for the Sudan, according to British leaders, than the Right Hon. Sir George Lloyd, the former Governor of Bombay. He has left an enduring memorial in India in the form of the great barrage over the Indus at Sukkur, which is known as the Lloyd Dam.

It is the biggest dam in the world, much larger than the gigantic Assouan Dam over the Nile, and with five canals is bringing under cultivation a formerly barren region of more than 8,000,000 acres. Indeed, the territory is being changed into a vast granary to which the seaport of Karachi will serve as the point of export and distribution. The canals form a length of 7,000 miles and three of them are each wider and deeper than the Suez Canal. It may safely be said that the Lloyd Dam and its system of canals is the greatest constructive work ever as yet undertaken in India with a view to relieving the frequent famines due to the overcrowding of her teeming population of over 300,000,000. These famines have been for centuries one of the most difficult problems with which the successive governments of India have had to deal.

Among Sir George Lloyd's qualifications for the post of British High Commissioner for Egypt and the Sudan, with headquarters at Cairo and salary and allowances amounting to $100,000, are his perfect mastery of Arabic and his knowledge of everything in connection with Islam, especially in relation to its political problems. It was because of his remarkable understanding of all these matters that Lord Kitchener appointed him early in the great war to assist him in organizing the intelligence service in the Near East.

Sir George Lloyd, then Lieutenant Lloyd, and Col. Thomas Lawrence obtained such extraordinary mastery over the various Arab tribes that the latter were ready to obey them implicitly and under their leadership to banish the Turks from Arabia and from the Holy cities of Islam.

Sir George Lloyd belongs to an old Welsh family, is son and grandson of county magnates, land owners and members of Parliament. Prior to the war he was employed without pay by the government in Persia, Mesopotamia and in southern Russia, the success of his various missions being largely due to his remarkable gift for the acquisition of Oriental languages.

LIFE PRISONER WANTS FREEDOM

Jesse Pomeroy, In Solitary For Forty-one Years, Strong, Healthy

BOSTON, June 3.—Jesse H. Pomeroy, famous life-term prisoner, is making another try for freedom.

After serving forty-nine years in state prison here, entering the prison as a boy of 16, the now gray-haired man has appealed to Governor Fuller for executive clemency.

Two score of business and professional men of Massachusetts are backing Pomeroy in his fight for liberty. These men have petitioned the governor for a public hearing. If the hearing is granted it is planned to have Pomeroy appear, under guard, and tell his story in person.

Solitary Life
Although in solitary confinement for forty-one of the forty-nine years, Pomeroy is vigorous and healthy. He has kept in touch with affairs in the outside world and has done much writing.

Pomeroy was convicted of murdering a boy of 5 in 1874, when he was 14 years old. He also confessed to slaying a girl whose ashes were dug from the cellar of the Pomeroy home in South Boston.

Many colleens of the Irish Free State now are wearing hosiery made in this country.

COMMENT by GIL A. COWAN

The thousands of visiting Shriners in Los Angeles who are seeing Southern California at its best this week are going to have a wonderful report to make to the folks back home.

For a fact, prosperity is apparent everywhere, although many are like the short-sighted gentleman and his salt cellar in the case last night. It was so close to him that he did not see it. But after it was pointed out by the waiter, he could not help saying, "So, it is right here!"

Exactly the same with prosperity. Right here in front of our very noses conditions are so good that thousands of people not yet living comfortably, but luxuriously, and saving money, in the finest climate the world knows.

The light rain which fell today will not in any way lessen the respect of the visitors for California's climate, nor will it interfere with any of the Shrine festivities.

Indeed, it is the fact that so many are prospering that others less fitted for success come here and find their day dreams shattered. Why, these same people wouldn't even dare dream of a business of their own in Kansas City, or Boston, or Baltimore.

Ten years ago the writer used to know numerous Glendale business men who were hard pressed. They had a "hand-to-mouth" existence. Some of them made money slowly, others moved away and some failed. But today the large number of business men are eminently successful. We could cite instances, were it proper to reveal business secrets.

They are confiding to their visitors this week, particularly those from their old home towns, how well they are doing. That message of prosperity is going to do a world of good in "selling the Southland."

In a personal column the editor of the San Bernardino Evening Telegram takes occasion to vent his views against Los Angeles. He is likely trying to reflect the attitude of his community in calling names, he says:

"Los Angeles does not always get justice from its neighboring cities; most of them are too tender-hearted. They temper justice with mercy."

Now it has been claimed that Los Angeles coerced many sister communities into consolidation. The writer heard that charge often at the Legislature in Sacramento, Glendale, as the closest of the close, maintains its independence and has never found Los Angeles coercing, but co-operating in the matter of industries, highways, sewers and other projects.

Also, it has been shouted from the housetops that Los Angeles is little Iowa, yet, with all respect to those adopted residents, they run fifth or sixth in numbers, New York and Illinois being in the lead. And these folks from New York and Illinois are not farmers by any majority. They are business men and manufacturers, both active and retired.

Practically every argument advanced against Los Angeles and its metropolitan area is based on fallacy. Glendale, Pasadena, Long Beach, and Pomona, among the larger cities of the county, have no fear of the metropolis and certainly they are favored through its progress.

However, as time goes on, Los Angeles is not going to be the lone metropolis in the Southland. Santa Barbara, Ventura, Long Beach, Newport Beach and San Diego are destined to develop foreign trade, while Glendale, Burbank, Pasadena, Monrovia, Whittier, Pomona, Downey, Santa Ana, Fullerton, Anaheim and Alhambra, among others are destined to become saturated with population. That, of course, may be a long way off, but it is just as sure as taxes and death.

The census forty years hence will show a half dozen communities south of the Tehachapi averaging half a million each in population, with Los Angeles boasting of two million of the seven or eight million people in the Southland.

BETTY FEATURED IN GATEWAY FILM

Miss Compson Stars In 'New Lives For Old' For Today Only

"New Lives For Old," showing at the Gateway theatre today only and starring Betty Compson, is a fast-moving story of international secret service in war-time with Betty caught in the net of intrigue and forced to sacrifice everything for her country.

Her first commission is to spy upon de Montrichard, suspected of German affiliations but apparently a French major. She accepts, because he has repeatedly made advances to her and she hates him.

One night she learns he has information imperiling her lover, who is in the trenches. His message, written on the cuff of his shirt, is to be taken by an old washerwoman to a German airplane waiting in a lonely field near Paris.

Betty as Washerwoman
Betty impersonates the washerwoman and gets the message, but before she can get away the real washerwoman appears and her disguise is discovered.

Wallace MacDonald, Theodore Kosloff and Sheldon Lewis are featured in support of Miss Compson in this production, directed by Clarence Badger. Others in the cast include Jack Joyce, Margaret Seddon, Joe Dowling, Helen Dunbar.

There also is the usual Wednesday feature of vaudeville.

COSMO PICTURE SHOWS REAL LIFE

Griffith Masterpiece And Hawaiian Trio Form Entertaining Bill

Old-fashioned old-world courtesy and kindness came near ruining one of the most effective scenes in D. W. Griffith's latest film play, "Isn't Life Wonderful," showing at the Cosmo theatre. It was a scene showing homeward bound fishermen sailing down towards port at dusk, and Griffith requested several of the German fishermen to sail their picturesque craft slowly down the river. He wanted simply three or four sails to appear in the picture.

Anxious to be of service to the American director, two score of fishermen piled into their craft and started downstream. It was with the greatest difficulty that Griffith made them understand that too many sails would spoil the beauty of the picture, and that but three or four boats were needed. And then so lengthy an argument started as to which boats and fishermen would be allowed to serve the visitor that Griffith almost lost the scene because of the fading light, before the matter was decided.

On the stage is a specialty act by the "Piggly Wiggly Tantalizing Hawaiian Trio."

FAMOUS WAR PLAY LAUDED BY WILSON

'Friendly Enemies,' Now At Glendale Theatre, Had Big Ovation

For the first time in the history of theatres a president made an address between acts extolling the merits of the play he was watching.

That president was Woodrow Wilson and the play, "Friendly Enemies," which was then having its Washington premiere. Between the first and second acts Louis Mann, who was co-starring with Sam Bernard, came before the curtain to thank the audience gathered at the theatre that evening.

Mann, always a quick-minded and witty fellow, contrived neatly to induce the chief executive to make a speech of his own volition and express an opinion of the piece.

Hardly had the curtain been lowered on the second act, than there was a stir in the Wilson box. Every eye was turned to the side of the house and with deliberation the great war president arose in his seat. After several minutes of generalization regarding the value of plays dealing with the war, Mr. Wilson took the piece in question, extolled its praises generously and concluded by saying:

"I hope the spirit and sentiment of this beautiful play will soon grip the world."

Praise like this from such a man as Woodrow Wilson is a recommendation which any producer would go far to secure and speaks for itself in the loudest possible tones.

The screen version of "Friendly Enemies" featuring the greatest and oldest comedy team on the stage, Weber and Fields, is now playing an engagement at the Glendale theatre that is even superior to the original play by Aaron Hoffman and Samuel Shipman.

BATTLE OF SHORT SKIRTS IS WAGED

Some Designers Insist Knees Should Show, Others Use Lace Cover

By ALICE LANGELEIR
For International News Service

PARIS, June 3.—The battle of the skirts is still going on in Paris. How short should the skirt be? An important question for the smart Frenchwoman.

All the dressmakers brought out their spring collections showing skirt-lengths varying from above the knee to a little below it. Blanche Lebouvier insists that the knees must show. Her day frocks just touch the knees; but the sports dresses are even shorter, and afternoon frocks have a tunic of lace at the bottom, through which the knees are plainly seen.

All of which is very well for the slim, youthful wearer, who can show her legs to the world even if her ankles are not as slim as she may wish. For the tall, stout woman it isn't so easy. But the tailors and designers all insist that it is the season for short skirts, with just enough fullness for sitting down comfortably.

Petaled Skirts
Madeleine Vionnet is making a special of delicate, petaled skirts, which give an irregular hemline and make it difficult to tell just how long the skirt really is. Sometimes it is long and sometimes short—all depending upon the movements of the wearer.

These petaled frocks come in softest chiffons, which blow about with the slightest breeze. Others for evening come in georgette, covered from shoulders to hem with a spiral of crystal fringes which terminate at the hemline in points, the opening being above the knee and the point below it.

Fashion for Chic
Molyneux is endorsing reasonable lengths in skirts by putting on wide, transparent hems, which are a bit deceptive, but more beautiful than the extremely short frocks. Sometimes the skirt comes in lace and takes on the look of a tunic. Sometimes it is in a different shade, making a pretty color combination.

Patou lets the skirt just touch the calf and makes it graceful for every wearer. But the really chic Parisienne wears the length which suits her best, which, after all, is the only solution when fashion gets too exacting.

Bandit Eludes Capture After Escaping Bullets

ROSEVILLE, Cal., June 3.—No trace had been found at an early hour today of a bandit who escaped under a hail of bullets here yesterday after one of his companions had been killed and another probably fatally wounded during a gun battle with Fred Farnum, a night watchman, during a holdup.

Jesus Berrones, the wounded bandit, told police that the slain man was G. Duarte of Gold Run, but has refused to divulge the identity of the bandit who escaped.

The gun fight in which Duarte was killed and Berrones wounded occurred when Farnum discovered the safe of a soft drink parlor here. The fugitive bandit escaped with approximately $700.

WARREN RETIRES AS RADIO LEADER

'Father' Of 'Glendale Bills To Leave For Arkansas To Aid Evangelist

Gould H. Warren, the "father" of Glendale Chamber of Commerce radio programs, will retire as chairman of the chamber radio committee following the program Saturday night. Mr. Warren, who, with his bride, will leave shortly for Arkansas to take up evangelical work with John Brown, evangelist, has gained widespread fame for Glendale through the excellent radio entertainment he has broadcast over KFI.

A formal resolution of esteem and appreciation to Mr. Warren for his work as chairman of the radio committee will be presented in the name of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce by Secretary Howard L. Wood, following the Saturday night program.

It is estimated that thousands of persons scattered over the entire American continent who would not otherwise have heard of Glendale have been apprised of the wonders and beauties of this city through the efforts of Mr. Warren. Nearly 1,000 replies have been received bearing the postscripts of every state in the Union and many of the provinces of the Dominion of Canada, have been received by the Glendale chamber acknowledging the fine radio programs broadcast monthly under the direction of Mr. Warren.

Judge Lowe Upholds Parking Space Right

When a parking space has been improved at a cost of $20,000 for private use and it is used generally by all of the public that can get its cars inside, there is cause for grievance, according to Police Judge F. H. Lowe.

H. S. McCormack, of H. S. McCormack and Associates, Inc., recently appealed by Judge Lowe for advice after the firm's private parking space on Wilson avenue in the rear of the Lawson building had been overrun by outside cars. He asked if the park could be barricaded and locked, even though strange cars were inside.

"Sure, lock 'em up," says Judge Lowe. "The law doesn't intend that persons owning a private garage or parking space have to stay up all night to permit others to get their cars out, when those cars have no right there in the first place, nor is it necessary to leave the gate or door unlocked. "Then bring a civil action for damages. There is certainly ground for it."

COOLIDGE FOR GUARANTEED SECURITY

President Tells Annapolis Graduating Class Nation Must Be Prepared

By GEORGE R. DURNO, For International News Service. ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 3.—President Coolidge, speaking as commander-in-chief of the American military establishment today pledged himself finally and absolutely to adequate national preparedness.

Addressing the 1925 graduating class of the United States naval academy here, the executive gave his unqualified support to an army and navy and reserve qualified in every way to guarantee national security. He urged only that maintenance of the national defense be governed in such fashion to make it an "instrument of righteousness" rather than a display of "mere naked force."

"The true spirit of American institutions requires that each citizen should be potentially a soldier, ready to take his place in the ranks in time of peril, either in the field or in the necessary productive activity," he told the young naval officers.

The president admonished all men of the service, however, against preaching the gospel of preparedness on the plea that other world powers are arming against the United States. Declaring that "the suggestion that any other people are harboring a hostile intent toward us is a very serious charge," he said:

"It seems to me perfectly proper for any one upon any suitable occasion to advocate the maintenance of a navy in keeping with the greatness and dignity of our country. But as one who is responsible not only for our national defense, but likewise our friendly relations with other peoples and our title to the good opinion of the world, I feel that the occasion for very seldom arise, and I know it does not now exist when those connected with our navy are justified, either directly or by inference. In asserting that other powers are arming against us, and by arousing national suspicion and hatred attempting to cause us to arm against them."

The duty of the national defense, Mr. Coolidge said, "is a national duty that should be borne by all people." He declared that a proper display of military force was "the background of security."

Enumerating the progress stages of the advance of civilization, including freedom in religion and expressing the installation of popular education and increasing production and a broader culture generally, he told the graduating class:

"In all this progress and all this advance it has never been possible to maintain that first essential of security without a background of military force. It is that background, that support, that service which your profession helps to provide, that is your contribution, one of the first things, one of the essentials to the civilian life of our country. You may not be actually employed in production, but you are helping to increase the value of production and maintain the public peace without which there could be no production."

While making clear his belief that ultimately, through the application of "reason," universal peace would prevail, the president indicated plainly that, in his belief, the time had not yet come to abandon the principle of protective armament.

"Though ultimately I believe peace will prevail," he said, "I have too much knowledge of the history of mankind and too much experience with the human nature to dare assert that we shall never again be engaged in war."

States Plan Celebrating Defense Day

WASHINGTON, June 3.—War department officials, following the dispatch of telegrams inviting the governors of the various states to co-operate fully in the observance of Defense day are working to perfect their plans for holding the defense test on July 4.

In holding the defense test nearly four months before it was planned to observe the second great defense gathering the war department is facing an enormous task. All plans were laid with the November date in mind and as a result of President Coolidge's disapproval of that day the time for perfecting final plans has been correspondingly shortened.

LOS ANGELES, June 3.—Unsettled weather tonight and Thursday with possibly light showers tonight, was the weather forecast today. Temperatures: Boston, 66; Chicago, 74; Kansas City, 76; Denver, 54; Des Moines, 66; St. Louis, 76; St. Paul, 60; San Francisco, 52; Washington, 78; Los Angeles, 67.

Peking Students Make Assault On Legation

eral thousand stormed a Japanese egg and produce plant. Crowds of angry demonstrators stoned the street cars today and attacked the police with bricks. Numerous arrests were made and many of the rioters received minor injuries.

Thousands of wharf coolies armed with bamboo poles began rioting in the Broadway district today, but were quickly dispersed when police volunteers appeared. The strike ranks were swelled to 150,000 as workers at British, Japanese and Chinese mills and factories and thousands of wharf coolies walked out.

Meanwhile in the foreign settlement hundreds of men and women were responding to the appeal of the municipal council that all unenrolled defense forces volunteer to maintain the public utilities and other essential services.

The entire Chinese force of the municipal electricity department was expected to strike today.

NATIONAL ROAD

SAN FRANCISCO, June 3.—More than $170,000 will be spent by the government in road construction in Greater Lake National park in the near future, according to announcement by Stephen T. Mather, director of the national park service. Work will include grade rectification and asphaltic paving of about eighteen miles of road. The work will be done by contract and bids will be opened on June 9.

PADLOCK PLANS

WARNING HANDED TO WIFE-BEATERS

Baltimore Judge Says Next Husband Accused Will Be Beat Himself

BALTIMORE, June 3.—Wife-beaters who appear before Judge Henry Duffy, in criminal court here, in future will receive more than a tongue-lashing for sentence—they will receive a whip-lashing. The judge made known his intention after hearing the case of Mrs. Edna Simmons against her husband, Robert.

Mrs. Simmons testified her husband beat and kicked her because she didn't give him enough money out of her pay envelope. Judge Duffy gave Simmons six months in the house of correction.

"The next wife-beater who comes before me," said the judge, "will be surprised to learn I have revived the use of the whipping post in Maryland."

"The judge will find it easy to make good his threat, as the official whipping post, long regarded as a relic of other days, still stands in the yard at the city jail, ready for the next victim to receive the proverbial "thirty lashes."

Anti-Foreign Strike Is Growing In Violence

papers are printing a single sheet with the aid of foreign printers. Employees of the cable companies have called a meeting for this afternoon to consider a strike vote.

All Chinese employees of the water works are out on strike, and foreigners are maintaining service. Student pickets are trying to get Chinese servants at the American club to join the strikers.

Attack Pastor.—Evidences of a violent anti-foreign spirit flaming throughout China was found in reports reaching Shanghai from many sections where student agitators are using the shootings here as a basis for violent propaganda.

Rev. M. H. Throup of the American Northern Presbyterian mission, was attacked by a mob of students at Soo Chow, thrown from his rickshaw and badly man-handled before being rescued by Chinese friends.

Chinese in Nanking were reported spitting on foreigners. Literature branding all aliens as "foreign dogs" is being distributed throughout the provinces. Soviet sickles with huge steel razor-edged blades, sinuously curved and made with an exact imitation of the Moscow coat of arms were seized by the Shanghai police in a raid on a Chinese hotel where a huge quantity of Bolshevik literature was also found.

RAIN CAUSES BIG DAMAGE TO AUTOS

Glendale Boulevard Scene of Dozen Accidents When Cars Go Skidding

With nearly all automobile accidents confined to Glendale avenue, today's rain caused damage estimated at more than $1000 to automobiles while motorists had dozens of narrow escapes from serious injury. One ornamental light standard on Glendale avenue near Maple street was demolished.

Nearly a dozen motorists reported to the police department crashes that occurred when machines got out of control and spun around and around on the slippery pavement. One, in which C. E. Rice of La Crescenta figured, caused damage to his machine of about $50, while another car was damaged about half that amount.

Rice, driving south on Glendale avenue, hit a car track and the machine began spinning. Turning at about fifteen revolutions per minute, it slowly slid toward the curb at the left of the street where another car tried to avoid a collision. While revolving, the Rice machine struck the other.

Other Accidents
Harry Levitt, 1256 Boynton street, driving south on Glendale avenue had a similar accident near Maple street. The wheels of his car struck a street car rail switch and began revolving rapidly, skidding at the same time toward the right curb. It struck against an ornamental light standard and revolved barely out of the way of the heavy pole as it fell. Just before Levitt struck the light standard two other motorists skidded onto the curb, and before he had pulled his car out of the debris another machine had joined those already on the curb.

Late last night Mrs. C. E. Peoples, 3210 Glendale boulevard, was slightly gashed and bruised when the car in which she was riding driven by Mrs. A. J. McClellan, 355 1/2 Burchett street, collided with a Pacific Electric bus at Central avenue and Lexington drive.

M. P. Judd, 2123 Echo Park avenue, Los Angeles, was injured in a collision on Los Feliz road late yesterday and was taken to the Glendale hospital where he was treated for cuts and bruises.

BRITAIN SEEKING SOLUTION IN 'AIR'

After Seven Years' Delving Into Possibilities, Is Still Uncertain

By HARRY R. FLORY
For International News Service.
LONDON, June 3.—After more than seven years' experience with a separate air ministry, for which United States aviation officers and some others are still fighting, Great Britain is still debating the advantages and disadvantages of her post-war handling of the air problem.

Great Britain has her own Brigadier General Mitchell—except that they have gained their point—her own Admiral Sims and high army officers who take opposing sides on the ever-present question of whether airplanes have superseded older established fighting arms.

One day's debate in the House of Commons on the air estimates recently brought out the widely conflicting points of view on these questions by prominent army and navy men who are members of the House.

Opinions Vary
"The air force should be operated absolutely separately from all other branches of imperial defense," said Rear Admiral Suetter, a navy man since 1886, who created the Royal Navy Air Service in 1911 and who was instrumental in introducing submarines into the navy and tanks into the army.

"The necessity for a separate air ministry was never clear to me," said T. P. H. Beamish, whose naval career dates back twenty-six years and who commanded a battleship at the battle of Jutland.

"The army, navy and air force should be separate but co-ordinate services," said Major-General Sir John Davidson, for twenty-six years an army man.

Commander Carlyon Bellairs also rose to announce that in his opinion aircraft have not rendered battleships obsolete. Commander Bellairs has spent eighteen years in the navy.

Farm Prospects Now Brighter

This chart shows how the American farmer profited from his principal money-makers in 1924, and how last year's income compared with that of 1923. It is declared that prospects for the farmer are now much brighter.

By JOHN T. LEWING, JR.
Central Press Correspondent
WASHINGTON, June 2.—What is the farm outlook?
"The most painful period of readjustment is now over and prospects look much brighter for the farmer."

The words are those of the new secretary of agriculture, William Jardine, who is becoming increasingly popular in Washington because he is letting it be distinctly understood that he has no magic wand to wave over American agriculture to cure it of its ills.

With the exception of dairy interests and livestock producers, farmers generally realized better profits in 1924 than in 1923, figures just compiled by the department of agriculture show.

A decrease of $66,000,000 in farm value of dairy products produced in 1924 is shown, the department placing the 1924 valuation at $2,556,148,000, compared with $2,652,419,000 in 1923.

Livestock and livestock products are given a farm value of $5,951,000,000, compared with $6,233,000,000 the preceding year, nearly all animal products having decreased in value.

Corn is still king of the farm, the department's figures confirm. The value of the corn crop last year is placed at $2,890,000,000, as compared with $2,538,000,000 in 1923; wheat $1,131,000,000 compared with $743,000,000, and oats $739,000,000, as compared with $554,000,000.

The value of the cereal crops in 1924 was $5,220,000,000, or 45.9 per cent of the total of all crops, as compared with $4,138,000,000 in 1923, or 39.8 per cent of the value of all crops in that year. Every cereal crop increased in value last year.

The cotton crop, including lint and seed, is valued at $1,701,000,000 last year, compared with $1,657,000,000 in 1923. This increased value was due to larger production inasmuch as the average price per pound of cotton lint was lower than for the preceding year.

Hay and forage crops are given a value of $1,733,000,000, compared with $1,619,000,000 in 1923; the fruit crops, $626,000,000, compared with $642,000,000; vegetables, $1,018,000,000, compared with $1,169,000,000; poultry products, $994,000,000, compared with $1,038,000,000.

Despite these decreases the combined value of crop and livestock production in the United States last year was $12,404,000,000, which was $56,000,000 more than in 1923.

Crop production had a farm value of $11,404,000,000, compared with $10,401,000,000 in 1923, but of this value some $4,951,000,000 worth of crops were fed to livestock, whereas in 1923 the value of crops fed to livestock was $4,286,000,000.

MAJOR'S WIFE IS LOST TO SOLDIER

Officer Wins Divorce When Spouse Confesses She Loves Private

LONDON, June 3.—Major Gerald Hughes has been granted a divorce from his wife, Daphne, because a private won her love.

Major Hughes testified that while on duty in India his suspicions were aroused; and his wife confessed that she had a lover, and that she was not ashamed of him, and said that he was a soldier in the Black Watch. The Major found a number of love letters to his wife from the soldier; and his wife became hysterical and said she wanted her freedom so that she might marry her lover. The Major said his wife was a woman of independent means.

Captain Noel Willis testified that, while staying at a hotel in Chakrata, he saw a private of the Black Watch enter Mrs. Hughes' rooms on several occasions.

SONORA INDIANS
ORIGIN IS FIXED

University Teacher Claims
Tribe Dates 800 Years
Before White Man

BERKELEY, June 30.—Antedating the discovery of California by the Spanish, and by some 800 years, Professor William D. Strong, University of California anthropologist, has published his investigations showing that the Sonora Indians, a race closely allied to the Aztecs, knew of the Golden State when Europeans did not even dream of the existence of the North American continent.

During a recent survey of the Southern California deserts, Professor Strong checked a well-defined trail, beginning in the Mexican state of Sonora and leading through the desert into the Salton sea, thence over the San Jacinto mountains to Hemet, Riverside county.

This ancient trail is marked by master artists of the tribesmen who carved inscriptions of their passing on outstanding rocks. The carvings are approximately 1000 years old, according to Professor Strong.

"This trail blazed by the Indians has been followed in modern times by the civil engineer," said Professor Strong.

'ROAD' CONVICTS IDEAL PRISONERS

So Says Superintendent Who Has 115 'Murderers'
In His Charge

SACRAMENTO, June 3.—Convicts have taken a human life are the most tractable of all prisoners, according to Ben H. Milliken, superintendent of prison road construction who has charge of several hundred prisoners, working "on honor" in the several road camps in California. "Since the plan of working honor men on the roads was inaugurated," said Milliken, "we have had 115 men convicted of murder or manslaughter employed on state roads many hundred miles distant from Folsom or San Quentin prisons."

"I am proud to state that but one of these 115 slayers broke his word of honor and ran away and not one has ever been returned to the penitentiary for misconduct. That ratio speaks louder than all the declamation of theorists. Additional support of the claim that murderers are tractable in the highest degree is to be found in the fact that of many scores finally paroled, none has failed to 'make good.'"

Exceptional Record
"I believe this exceptional record is due to the fact that most 'killers' commit crimes under the influence of overpowering anger and that the realization of what they have done afterwards sears itself into their minds to such a degree that they become much more amenable to discipline than criminals of lesser degree. At all events the record is as stated."

"Incidentally, I might say that real parole violators number but 4 per cent of the total number thus favored, after being closely observed by the prison authorities for several months or years if necessary, before favorable action is taken."

FATHER CHARGES SON TOOK WIFE

Fifty-Year-Old Farmer Asks
Divorce From Young
Spouse, Aged 20

COLUMBIA, Cal., June 3.—Suit for divorce was filed today by Isaac H. Kaucher, 53, Williams farmer, against his beautiful bride in her early twenties, Gladys Angeline Kaucher, on statutory grounds with the son of the plaintiff named as co-respondent.

The elderly complainant says that he married his young wife in Colusa on September 10, 1924, and extended an invitation to his son, John Henry Kaucher, residing in Oakland to visit the home place during the Christmas holidays and become acquainted with his step-mother.

Acquaintance ripened all too rapidly, according to the elder Kaucher, for on January 19, 1925, his son and his bride of three months left together for Oakland, where they have resided since.

STATE REGISTERS HIGH BIRTH RATE

Record Set In California In Marriages Also; Low
Death Statistics

SACRAMENTO, June 3.—The state birth rate for 1923 in California, 21.1, was the highest ever recorded; the marriage rate for the same year, 14.5, also was the highest of record and the tuberculosis death rate for the year, 150.4 every thousand deaths, registers the low mark since figures have been kept, according to a bulletin just issued by the state board of health.

In 1918, the year of the influenza epidemic, the death rate reached 17.7. The lowest death rate of record is 13.1, in 1916. During the years 1922 and 1923, there were 102,667 marriages, births numbering 153,558 and 106,384 persons died.

DUTCH WINDMILL VS. ELECTRICITY

Picturesque Power Provider
Giving Way to Spark
Made by Motor

THE HAGUE, June 3.—Holland's chief characteristic—the windmill—is threatened by electricity.

Little by little windmills have been giving way to electric motors, which are now used not only for grinding corn, but also for pumping and fighting the continual battle against intruding water.

So rapidly have windmills disappeared that it has now become a public issue. A society, "Holland's Mills," has been formed to wage a war for the retention of the windmill, charging that Holland will become a dull and dreary sight to the traveler when all of the windmills are gone.

Professor Van Eysinga argues that in times of international disturbance, Holland's electrical supply may be cut off, and therefore it is the duty of the government to maintain the windmill as a measure of political safety.

DESERT BATHING

TONOPAH, Nev., June 3.—The new mining camp of Gilbert, far out in the desert, boasts one bathtub in its barber shop which is rented empty to customers 50 cents with the proviso that they pay for the water at the rate of 5 cents per gallon. The rate was 3 cents, but increasing population and demand for water is sending price quotations upward.

The HOUSE Of ARROW

A SERIAL STORY WRITTEN BY A. E. W. MASON
Protected By The McClure Newspaper Syndicate

"I am sorry," he said to her. The report of the analysts was lying on the writing table just beneath his eyes. He took it up idly. It was a trick, of course, with its seals and its signatures, a trick of Hanaud's to force Waberski to a retraction. He glanced at it, and with an exclamation began carefully to read it through from beginning to the end. When he had finished, he raised his head and stared at Hanaud.

"But this report is genuine," he cried. "Here are the details of the tests applied and the result. There was no trace discovered of any poison."

"No trace at all," Hanaud replied. He was not in the least disturbed by the question.

"Then I don't understand why you bring the accusation or whom you accuse," Frohisher exclaimed.

"I have accused no one," said Hanaud steadily. "Let us be clear about that! As to your other question—look!"

He took Frohisher by the elbow and led him to that bookshelf by the window before which they had stood together yesterday.

"There was an empty space here yesterday. You yourself drew my attention to it. You see that the space is filled today."

"Yes," said Jim.

Hanaud took down the volume which occupied the space. It was of quarto size, fairly thick and bound in a paper cover.

"Look at that," he said; and Jim Frohisher as he took it noticed with a queer little start that although Hanaud's eyes were on his face they were blank of all expression. They did not see him.

Hanaud's senses were concentrated on the two girls at neither of whom he so much as glanced. He was alert to them, to any movement they might make of surprise or terror. Jim threw up his head in a sudden revolt. He was being used for another trick, as some conjurer may use a fool of a fellow whom he has persuaded out of his audience on to his platform. Jim looked at the cover of the book, and cried with enough violence to recall Hanaud's attention:

"I see nothing here to the point. It is a treatise printed by some learned society in Edinburgh."

"It is. And if you will look again, you will see that it was written by a professor of medicine in that university. And if you will look a third time you will see from a small inscription in ink that the copy was presented to the professor's compliments to Mr. Simon Harlowe."

Hanaud, while he was speaking, went to the second of the two windows which looked upon the court and putting his head out, spoke for a little while in a low voice.

"We shall not need our sentry here any more," he said as he turned back into the room. "I have sent him upon an errand."

He went back to Jim Frohisher, who was turning over a page of the treatise here and there and was never a wisper.

"Well?" he asked.

"Strophanthus Hispidus," Jim read aloud the title of the treatise. "I can't make head or tail of it."

"Let me try!" said Hanaud, and he took the book out of Frohisher's hands. "I will show you how I spent the half hour while I was waiting for you this morning."

He sat down at the writing table, placed the treatise on the blotting pad in front of him and laid it open at a colored plate.

"This is the fruit of the plant Strophanthus Hispidus, when it is ripening," he said.

The plate showed two long,

tapering follicles joined together at their stems and then separating like a pair of compasses set at an angle. The backs of these follicles were rounded, dark in color and speckled; the inner surfaces, however, were flat, and the curious feature of them was that, from longitudinal crevices, a number of silky white feathers protruded. "Each of these feathers," Hanaud continued, and he looked up to find that Ann Upcott had drawn close to the table and that Betty Harlowe herself was leaning forward with a look of curiosity upon her face—"each of these feathers is attached by a fine silk to an elliptical pod, which is the seed, and when the fruit is quite ripe and these follicles have opened so that they make a straight line, the feathers are released and the wind spreads the seed. It is wonderful, eh? See!"

Hanaud turned the pages until he came to another plate. Here a feather was represented in complete detachment from the follicle. It was outspread like a fan and was extraordinarily pretty and delicate in its texture; and from it by a stem as fine as a hair the seed hung like a jewel.

"What would you say of it, Mademoiselle?" Hanaud asked, looking up into the face of Ann Upcott with a smile. "An ornament wrought for a fine lady, by a dainty artist, eh?" and he turned the book round so that she on the opposite side of the table might the better admire the engraving.

Betty Harlowe, it seemed, was now mastered by her curiosity. Jim Frohisher, gazing down over Hanaud's shoulder at the plate and wondering uneasily whether he was being led, saw a shadow fall across the book. And there was Betty, standing by the side of her friend with the palms of her hands upon the edge of the table and her face bent over the book.

"One could wish it was an ornament, this seed of the Strophanthus Hispidus," Hanaud continued with a shake of the head. "But, alas! it is not so harmless."

He turned the book around again to himself and once more turned the pages. The smile had disappeared altogether from his face. He stopped at a third plate; and this third plate showed a row of crudely fashioned arrows with barbed heads.

Hanaud glanced up over his shoulder at Jim.

"Do you understand now the importance of this book, Monsieur Frohisher?" he asked. "No?"

Hanaud, while he was speaking, went to the second of the two windows which looked upon the court and putting his head out, spoke for a little while in a low voice.

"We shall not need our sentry here any more," he said as he turned back into the room. "I have sent him upon an errand."

He went back to Jim Frohisher, who was turning over a page of the treatise here and there and was never a wisper.

"Well?" he asked.

"Strophanthus Hispidus," Jim read aloud the title of the treatise. "I can't make head or tail of it."

"Let me try!" said Hanaud, and he took the book out of Frohisher's hands. "I will show you how I spent the half hour while I was waiting for you this morning."

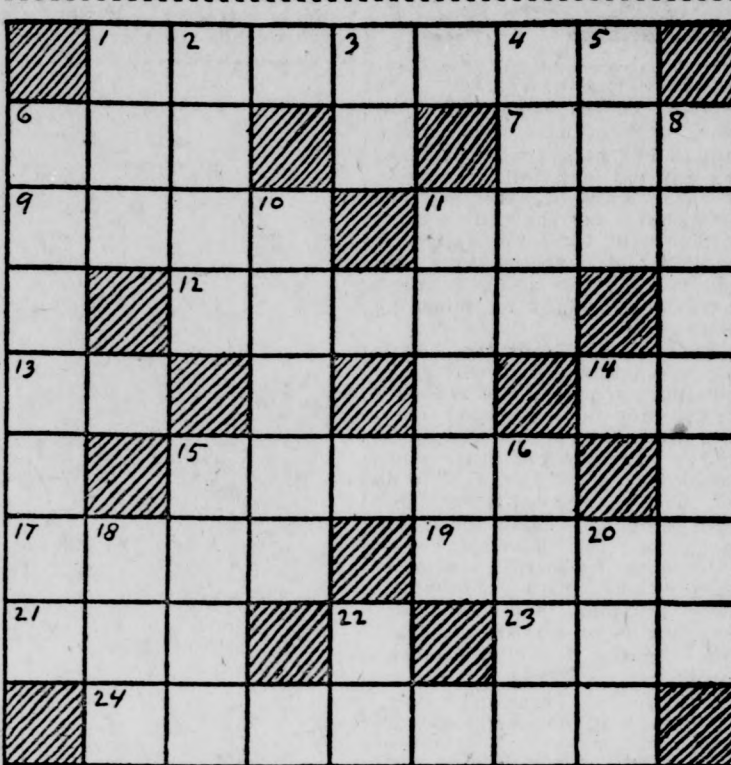

He sat down at the writing table, placed the treatise on the blotting pad in front of him and laid it open at a colored plate.

"This is the fruit of the plant Strophanthus Hispidus, when it is ripening," he said.

The plate showed two long,

HOW TO SOLVE THE CROSS WORD PUZZLE
The way to solve the Cross Word Puzzle is to fill in the white squares of the diagram with the words which agree with the accompanying definitions. The definitions are numbered to correspond with the numbers on the diagram.

Any word defined in the text under "HORIZONTAL" will begin at its number, shown on the diagram, and will extend all the way across to the first black space to the right of that number. That is, the word must begin in the square that contains its identifying number, and extend as far as the white squares continue uninterruptedly.

Any word defined in the text under "VERTICAL" will also begin in the white square that contains its number, but will extend downward as far as the white squares remain uninterrupted.

Professor has written a tiny note.

This particular arrow was a little different from the others in the shape of its shaft. Just below the triangular iron head the shaft expanded. It was as though the head had been fitted into a bulb; as one sees sometimes wooden penholders fine enough and tapering at the upper end, and quite thick just above the nib.

"See page 37," said Hanaud, reading the professor's note, and he turned back the pages.

"Page 37. Here we are!" Hanaud ran a finger half-way down the page and stopped at a word in capitals.

"Figure F."

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE JUNE BUG

Nipper and Skipper, two of the little rabbit boys who had come to Uncle Wiggily with his new wife, were hopping along beside the brook before school one morning, when they heard a strange buzzing, splashing noise in the water.

"What's that?" asked Nipper of his brother.

"It's a big June bug who has fallen into the brook," answered Skipper.

"Let's throw stones at him and splash him more!" said Nipper.

"Oh, no, we don't want to hurt the poor bug," replied Skipper. "Our new daddy, Uncle Wiggily, wouldn't want us to do that. Let's be kind to the poor June Bug. Let's lift him out of the water and take him back to the hollow stump bungalow. We'll leave him in daddy's room, and when his wings get dry he'll buzz around. And if Daddy Wiggily goes to sleep the June Bug will buzz on his pink, twinkling nose, tickle him and wake him up."

"Oh, that's great!" cried Nipper. "We'll play a trick on Daddy Wiggily instead of on the June Bug." So those two mischievous little rabbit boys lifted the wet June Bug out of the brook on the end of a stick and carried him to their bungalow home. On the way Nipper said: "It would be a good trick to take the June Bug to school, put him in a little box and hand it to the Lady Mouse teacher. She'd be surprised when she opened the box and the bug flew out in her face."

"Yes," admitted Skipper, slowly, "that would be a good trick. But I think the one of letting the bug buzz on Daddy Wiggily's nose will be just as good."

"What mischievous little tykes these boys are! I wish I could play a trick on them. And, if they only knew it, Uncle Wiggily is a friend of mine, and I certainly won't play any trick on him."

But Skipper and Nipper didn't know what the June Bug thought as they put him in the room where Uncle Wiggily always sat for a while to read the paper and take a little sleep here starting out after breakfast, to have an adventure. Putting the damp June Bug on the window sill in the sun where his wings would dry, Skipper and Nipper laid in the weeds to watch what would happen. Uncle Wiggily was asleep in his easy chair.

"Wait until the Bug buzzes over and lands on his pink nose!" whispered Skipper, "then we'll see some fun!"

"We sure will!" laughed Nipper. However, just as the Bug's wings dried so he could fly, the school bell rang, and Skipper and Nipper had to run so they wouldn't be late.

"But we'll hear about our joke when we come home," said the two little tykes. As it happened the Bug didn't buzz over the light on Uncle Wiggily's nose. The Bug sat on the window sill in the sun, and when the rabbit gentleman awakened and saw him, the Bug told all that had happened.

"So Skipper and Nipper wanted you to play a trick on me, did they?" chuckled Mr. Longears. "Well, maybe tonight we'll have a chance to play a trick on them."

That night when Skipper and Nipper had gone to bed, wondering why Uncle Wiggily had said nothing of the Bug on his nose—that night it was very hot. It was almost as hot as Fourth of July and Skipper and Nipper couldn't sleep.

"I wish we had an electric fan to cool us!" sighed Skipper. "I have something as good as a fan!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "Come in, June Bug. Buzz your wings and make a cool breeze for Skipper and Nipper."

"Oh! Is the now—is the June Bug here?" cried Skipper, as Nipper hid under the bed clothes.

"Of course he is!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "I asked him to stay and visit me. But you don't need to be afraid that he will pinch your nose. He is a kind June Bug and will only make you cool." So the June Bug perched on the window sill of the room where Skipper and Nipper were in bed. The Bug buzzed his big wings and made a breeze like an electric fan, and soon the two little rabbits were cool enough to go to sleep. And they dreamed a June Bug, as large as an elephant, was riding them on his back.

But if the coal man doesn't give the white horse a black mark for not eating up all his oatmeal, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the red ants.

TAYLOR GETS WIN OVER M'LARNIN

Terre Haute Fighter Wears Coast Lad Down With Long Experience

Before a house that was jammed from floor to rafters, Jimmy McLarnin, scrapping Irishman, and Bud Taylor, veteran of countless battles, staged one of the greatest fights witnessed on the Pacific coast since the days of Jim Corbett, when the two boys met last night in the ten-round main event at Jack Doyle's Vernon arena.

The decision went to Taylor, but McLarnin lost none of his prestige with the verdict, in the opinion of the fight fans who saw the bout.

The Terre Haute fighter, who has met and conquered four men who are now champions in their class, got the decision by overcoming McLarnin's lead and adding a few more points in the last five rounds. Jimmy took the first five rounds, but during the last half of the battle, the fast pace set by the two fighters, together with the experience of Taylor, began to tell on the California youth. Taylor used a left jab almost continually during the closing rounds.

Jimmy made a strong bid for honors in the final stanza, coming back strong when it appeared that he was on the verge of collapsing in the ninth round. He opened the final session by slamming lefts and rights at Taylor's head. Taylor unleashed several left jabs that set Jimmy back on his heels, and then the Terre Haute lad went into the lead again.

Needs Experience
Taylor did his greatest damage in the seventh round, when he cut Jimmy's mouth. This rally came after a terrific sixth round, when it looked like the coast youth would be knocked out. McLarnin, however, stood by his guns, and came through the session, right side up with care.

With another year of experience, and not being rushed into too many fights, McLarnin will be a fighter that others in his class will begin to dread. Right now he is too immature to slug his way to victory with boxers who have been in the ring for several years.

The main event and the special event—a six-canto affair between Nick Antonio and Johnny Gerardin—were the best bouts on the card. Nick got the nod after a lot of milt-slinging on the part of both. A draw wouldn't hurt anyone. The first bout was stopped in the first round when Eddie Keys proved he was no match for Jimmy Derring. Johnny Reno knocked out Benny Jordan in the fourth, and Young Farrell's seconds threw in the towel to save him further punishment from Joe Salas.

LAST TWO ROUNDS
SAN FRANCISCO, June 3.—Macario Villon, lightweight champion of the Orient, lasted two rounds here last night when he met Frankie Farren, local fighter, in a scheduled ten-round event.

LAWRENCE PERRY SAYS

Special Correspondent to The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925

NEW YORK, June 3.—If William Tilden was not kidding at the Orange lawn tennis club matches—in which he lost the final to Vincent Richards—he will shortly be out of lawn tennis.

He told a club official that this would be his last tennis match, that he was going into the movies where pretty much all his time would be taken up.

There have been rumors for some time that he has been considering a flattering movie contract but it may be regarded as certain that the tourney at Mountain station was not his last. When—and if—he does retire he will not be likely to have his swan song characterized by the motif of defeat.

No great title was at stake at the Orange tournament and Tilden in the

Harry Greb Mixed Up In Running Gun Fight

PITTSBURGH, June 3.—Harry Greb, middleweight champion of the world, narrowly escaped with his life here today when a patrolman fired four times at the taxicab in which Greb and five companions were riding.

The patrolman first halted the taxicab and accused its occupants of disorderly conduct, according to the police report. When he approached the car attracted by the screams of a woman, its occupants called him abusive names and fled when he attempted to arrest them, the patrolman alleged. Then followed the chase through downtown streets, the patrolman commanding another taxicab.

The boxer's machine was brought to a stop after a chase of several blocks during which four shots were fired. All were arrested and taken to the police station where they were charged with disorderly conduct.

Winner On Friday May Get Chance At Wills

NEW YORK, June 3.—With both men down to fighting weight for their fifteen-round bout at the Polo grounds on Friday night, a report today gained circulation that the winner of the Gene Tunney-Tom Gibbons meeting would be matched with Harry Wills for a September bout that would do much to clarify the heavyweight situation. The trio mentioned constitute the leading contenders for Jack Dempsey's title.

The report stated that Jimmy De Forest, the Polo grounds promoter, had an "understanding" with all those concerned, although everything was to be contingent on Wills disposing of Charley Weinert on June 19.

Golf Fans Following Hagen And Bob Jones

WORCESTER, Mass., June 3.—Walter Hagen, Pasadena, Florida, and Bobby Jones, Atlanta, carried the entire gallery today in the first round of the national open golf championship. Hagen, after putting the ball out of bounds at the second hole and taking a seven, gave the crowd a fine exhibition of his fighting qualities when he finished the round in 72.

DODGERS BEAT GIANTS

There is an end to everything, even spaghetti, and yesterday the Dodgers beat the Giants for the first time this season, 6 to 5. It was Uncle Robbie's birthday and Neft entered into the spirit of the occasion. He made a gift of the game by passing Hargraves with the bases filled in the twelfth.

COBB HITS HOMER

Cobb made a personal issue of winning his own game by socking Blankenship for a homer in the ninth that gave the Tigers a 16 to 15 decision over the White Sox. It was one of those gas house district pitchers' battles, the Sox overcoming a ten-run lead in the late innings.

SENATORS DEFEATED

Our Mr. Ruth's contribution was a double to deep right center off Russell, tying the score in the eighth, whereupon Meusel followed with his second homer of the day and the Yanks won from the Senators 8 to 5.

DEFEAT RED SOX

Rommel won his ninth game of the year as the Athletics took a running jump at the pitching of Lucey and Winfield and beat the Red Sox 15 to 2.

CARDINALS WIN

The Cardinals made it three in a row from the Reds, 8 to 2, when Bottomley bumped Brady for two homers, the first of which came with the bases filled.

BRAVES VICTORIOUS

Genewich subdued the rampaging hitters of the Phillies and the Braves came home on the bit to win 12 to 5.

PERUVIAN MOVIES

penditure of approximately $1,200,000, part of which will be furnished by the county.

Passage of the library issue means a new branch building somewhere in the Atwater district. One of the first school tunnels to be constructed will be at Atwater avenue and Glendale boulevard to serve more than 250 children who now have to cross the Pacific Electric right-of-way at that junction.

Plan New Sidewalks

With the election out of the way and the personnel of the new City Council established, Atwater property owners will give their attention to a number of matters of municipal improvement in the district.

One of these will be the immediate installation of sidewalks on streets between Glendale and Los Feliz boulevards. It was originally planned to pave the streets and install the sidewalks at the same time. Because paving will be held up until completion of the new sewer lines in the district, property owners propose to petition the new council to go ahead with the sidewalk work independently.

In court later the charge of failing to heed a boulevard stop was dismissed when Weidiger testified that he was taking his wife home and that she was in great pain. Mrs. Weidiger is an invalid.

NEW YORK CLOSING

NEW YORK, June 3.—Speculative interest in the stock market today converged on the motor stocks and most of the spectacular price movements of the day occurred in a small number of these stocks. The high-priced industrials, whipped up to a still higher level by the bullish pools, gave additional strength to the bulls, who remained strongly entrenched in their position of leadership.

While short covering in a number of the motor shares accounted for a very large volume of buying orders, outside traders were reported as taking a larger interest in the buying of motor shares. More rumors were circulated relative to the probable consolidation of a number of the prominent manufacturers, including Hudson, Jordan, Pierce-Arrow, White, Chandler and Hupp. Buying of Pierce-Arrow preferred was also stimulated by reports that the management was considering plans for the payment of the accumulated dividends on this issue, having recently eliminated its huge indebtedness at the bank.

Shorts went scurrying after Maxwell stocks and certificates as prices jumped another 6 or 7 points, completing a gain of nearly 20 points since Saturday. Pierce-Arrow preferred was up 4 points; White Motors, 3; Hudson, 3, while the rest of the low-priced motor stocks reached new highs for the year.

Industrial stock leaders sold higher, but failed to retain the interest of traders for an extended period. The volume was small, as also was the trading in other important sections of the market, including oils. The rail list was mostly quiet and featureless. Coca-Cola's rise to a new high, at 113 1/2; Remington Typewriter's advance of 4 points; National Cloak, up 3; Associated Dry Goods, new stock, up 2 1/2, and the rise of A. T. & T. to a new high, at 149 1/2, were the principal features of the specialty stocks.

Allied Chemical and Allis-Chalmers continued to advance, and Great Western Sugar reached a new high, at 107 1/2; Fisher Body gained 3 1/2 on reports that the company would retire $8,000,000 preferred stock.

With call money available at 3 1/2 per cent in the open market the rate was marked down to 3 1/4 per cent in the stock exchange. Offerings were more than sufficient to supply demands of brokers. Outside markets were featureless, with cotton regaining some of its recent losses and grain firming up after a poor start.

MONEY & EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, June 3.—Call money on the floor of the New York stock exchange today ruled at 4 per cent; high, 4 per cent; low, 3 1/4 per cent. Time money was firm. Call money in London today was 3 1/2 per cent. Sterling exchange was steady, with business in bankers' bills at $4.86 for demand.

DRIED FRUITS

American Bridge steel to the extent of 4000 tons will be used in the construction of the Ritz tower in New York, according to the market wires.

Good rains, accompanied in places by destructive storms, have saved the middle western wheat crop at a large cost of life and property where the winds turned into twisters. Eight inches of snow fell in Wyoming, adding to the sheepmen's troubles.

Authorized capital stock in the reorganization of Postum Cereal will be $6,500,000 of 8 per cent cumulative preferred shares.

The Shell-Udon Oil Co. has $30,000,000 cash loaned out on call, according to market gossip. Standard of New Jersey, among others, has annual meetings of directors today.

FINANCING PLANS

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Plans of the New York bankers to re-finance the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, forced into receivership on March 18, will not interfere with the plan of the Interstate Commerce commission to make a thorough investigation of the "history" of the management, financial and other operations, accounts and practices of the road, it was learned today.

This general investigation was ordered by the commission on May 12, and it was said today that dates for hearings on the subject would be ordered within a few days.

TELLS OF STAGE

Jerseyite Says 'Never Again'
After Five Years With Musical Comedy

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 3.—Once more pretty Miss Billie Millscott will dip her hands into a an of warm, soapy dishwater and again she will experience the pleasure of exercising her excess energy through the wielding of a rubber upon a dusty carpet.

She has no time enough of this footlight business is too much, she tells the world.

It is not a tale of winning fame and a millionaire born behind the footlight's glare, nor is it a tale of failure and misery. It's just an ordinary story of being fierce — and being glad of it.

"Pretty legs may win millionaires into wedlock for a few girls," she says, talking from five years' experience of the stage — "but most of us know that the best way for a girl is walking back from 'hick town' to the city show has flamed and the cashier

Advice to Girls
 "You girls, whether you're from the 'hick towns' or the big cities and hate the thought of washing dishes, don't think you can get away with an idle time before the footlights unless you are one in a million—at least a million.

"Almost every girl from the small town is like I was. I thought I would win fame, perhaps fortune, and a fine husband and a life of ease. Well, I'm off to Hollywood."

"The folks and my friends thought I was a great actress. I did, too—then.

"After five years of working twenty hours a day, packing trunks, washing hose in dishpans and bathtubs, walking back from shows that flopped, and starving to get a contract—I'm through."

Going Back

"I'm going to go back to my old home town if I have to walk

Now, somewhere in New Jersey, the proverbial fatted calf will be slain, and Billie will be welcomed back.

still more visiting Long Beach. A barbecue lunch at the Uplifters ranch, above Santa Monica, proved the attraction for 10,000 this noon, who are guests of motor tours through the Southland, all returning tonight for the first great parade of the week.

Line of March

The route of the marching Nobles, for this is their parade this evening, will be from Adam and Figueroa streets, south of Figueroa to Santa Barbara, west

The opening pageant yesterday was an "eye-opener" to the uninitiated, for it revealed the magnitude of the project. The parade route started on Santa Barbara to Menlo and north on Menlo to the traffic entrance of the Coliseum, in Exposition park, where upwards of 100,000 Angelenos will see the visitors "do their stuff."

Tomorrow night the million-dollar motion picture parade, and Friday the school children in an epic pageant, will add to the high lights of the year's biggest event. Single admission tickets to the Coliseum, where al-

the events take place, may be purchased at the gates.

This From Boston

It is estimated there are more than 100,000 tourists and visiting Shriners in Los Angeles this week. And what do they think of it all? Asking a Boston group the reply was "Wonderful." And what do they think of Los Angeles?

es? One of the Bostonians spoke up. "A busy little city." "But not so little," said another quickly. "A town of magnificent distances. Magnificent homes in Hollywood and Beverly Hills, where we were today. Magnificent weather. Magnificent people here. Magnificent—"

Yes, if Boston says it's mag

Sidelights on the Shrine convention are to be had on every hand. The police are happily blind to traffic violations and other infractions of the law, but order prevails, order whatever you please. Everything goes.

Numerous Novelties

The Imperial Council is in ex-

Executive session at the Biltmore theatre, where business is being transacted. But the most of the Shriner are here for pleasure and be it known.

Every conceivable novelty in the way of vehicles, musical instruments and souvenirs is to be seen. Many of the visiting Shriner are maintaining headquarters in their hotels, where souvenirs and literature are being distribute. But the Akron, Ohio delegation, with their rubber fezes and neckties take the lead in advertising their home city's chief industry. Fort Worth, Tex., has a bucking flivver dressed up like a stuffed steer to tell of their meat packing plants. And

HISTORIC COACH IS RESURRECTED

Passenger Car In Which
Lincoln Rode to Gettysburg
Is Saved From Ruin

By VIN SWEENEY.
For International News Service
GETTYSBURG, Pa., June 3.—
From a siding in the yards of the Western Maryland railroad at Port Covington, Baltimore, an ancient railroad coach, now a "freight car red," is to be brought to the battlefields here.

It is the coach on which Abraham Lincoln rode from Washington to Gettysburg in 1863, and in which it is generally believed he wrote his immortal Gettysburg address.

The coach was a combination baggage and passenger. Three small windows are in the passenger section and one in the baggage compartment. One of the original seats still remains, and one of the original baggage racks.

Bore Lincoln
But from the once glorified ham Lincoln, the coach has been shifted about, partially dismantled and is now a watchman's shanty and tool car. It has been at Port Covington for seven years. Where it was before is not known.

In the passenger end of the coach Old "Bill" Knight, watchman has a stove and a bed, in the baggage end are tools. Smoke and dirt of a railroad yard have changed the color. It was originally a plum color; now it is a "freight car red."

Proceedings to secure the car were started by local business men, headed by Postmaster R. C.
Miller and H. C. Mittinger. A Baltimore man is said to have been found who dismantled the car
some years after the Civil war.
He is ready to put the car in its former shape if it is secured from the railroad.

Loses Home
When officials of the company and Gettysburg men recently inspected the coach there was one dismayed onlooker. He is the old watchman who may or may not know the historic value of the coach; but it's his home.

"I've lived in it and took care of it for years," he said. "They're not going to take it from me now?"

The plan is to secure the coach as soon as possible and put it in its former shape as near as possible. It will be exhibited at the Sesqui Centennial in Philadelphia next year. Later it will be exhibited on the Lincoln Highway in Pennsylvania, finally to be housed in a specially constructed building on the Gettysburg battlefields.

only office of the nobles filled annually, as all other members of the imperial council are automatically advanced from year to year.

eted place of outer guard were:
Leonard P. Steuart, Washington,
D. C.; Dana S. Williams, Bangor,
Me.; Allan McCants, Meridan,
Miss., and J. F. Reid, Windsor, Ontario.

The first serious accident attending the sessions of the nobles was on record today. Fred M.
Shelton of Beverly Hills, was suffering from a broken leg as a result of a kick received from a vicious camel which he was attempting to ride in a parade.

Tonight's Program Official Shrine night parade is the big event scheduled for tonight when Nobles will assemble at 7 o'clock at West Twentieth

Flower in Los Angeles. This will mark the official appearance of all temples. Nobles will be in full dress or tuxedo and carry a Japanese umbrella. The parade will move at 8 o'clock and proceed to the coliseum. From midnight un-will be dancing for Nobles and their wives and women friends in the Biltmore ballroom.

California luncheon will be served at the Biltmore hotel at noon.

women of the Divan at the Flint-ridge Country club.

valley Shrine club's trip through Orange and, competitive drills at

I. W. W. Secretary Found Guilty Of Jury Charge

SACRAMENTO, June 3.—Tom Connors, secretary of the California defense committee of the I.
W. W., today stood convicted for the second time on a charge of attempting to influence jurors in a criminal syndicalism trial here in March, 1923. Notice of appeal has been filed by Connors' attorney, R. W. Henderson.

Connors was first convicted on the charge, which was based on sending I. W. W. literature to members of a jury, was reversed by the third district court of appeals recently.

Stenographers of Argentine preferred typewriters from this country, although those from Europe are cheaper.

ciation. It was witnessed by thousands of Shriners and others.

Francisco and Salina, Kan. Decision was made partly by the applause received by the contestants.

ors at night, when she was according second place in the beauty contest at the Bon Ton dancing pavilion. First prize went to

GUTHRIE NOT TO SEEK STATE JOB

Glendale Realtor Announces Withdrawal in Race
For Commissioner

Charles B. Guthrie, Glendale realtor, today announced that he has withdrawn his name from the list of candidates now before Governor Friend W. Richardson for appointment to the state real estate commissionership. Mr.
Guthrie, backed by a score of prominent boards and many real estate officials over the state, said he tendered his withdrawal to the governor several days ago, and that he has received acknowledgment from the state executive in writing.

"The long delay in appointing a successor to Edwin T. Keiser, resigned commissioner, has made it impossible for me to let my business connections hang fire any longer. In the event that I should have been appointed to the commissionership, I would have had to close out my Glendale business. It was impossible to wait longer without a final decision in the matter, so that I was forced to withdraw," Mr. Guthrie said.

SHEEP RANCHERS

FORT WORTH, June 3.— Reagan county sheepmen have saved 90 per cent of their lambs this spring. Shearing now is under way, yield averaging about six pounds.

KIN OF COLUMBUS IN CZECHO-SLOVAK

Music Instructor Lays Claim
Of Being Only Living
Heir of Navigator

ROME, June 3.—Nytira, in Czecho-Slovakia, claims the distinction of having as one of its few inhabitants a direct descendant of Christopher Columbus. The bearer of the historic name is Rodolfo Colombo, a music instructor.
Rodolfo's father, Giovanni Colombo, was a major in an Austrian infantry regiment. In 1910 the major read in a Viennese newspaper a notice inserted by the executors of the defunct Spanish prince, Cristoforo Colombo, of Veragna, a descendant of the navigator, inviting all the presumptive heirs to present their claims.

Giovanni was too poor to engage a lawyer to look after the affair, but succeeded himself in finding a certificate of baptism of the year 1712 which proved that one of his ancestors, Leopoldo Colombo, had been a member of the imperial guard. This certificate proved clearly the nobility of the family.

According to Rodolfo Colombo,
the minister of Spain has promised to help him in every possible way to strengthen further his claim upon the descendancy and estate.

War In Pacific Seen By Baptist Minister

BERKELEY, Cal., June 3.—
"War in the Pacific will come unless the United States adopts a new attitude toward the countries of the Orient," according to Dr.
William Axling, pastor of the Baptist Tabernacle at Tokyo, who spoke to the foreign students at the University of California recently.

Dr. Axling, who was official interpreter for the Japanese delegation at the Washington Disarmament Conference in 1922 and is an authority on international affairs, told the students that our task is to build across the Pacific a bridge of real understanding and that out of that will come friendship and international brotherhood.

Noted Musician Says Good Tunes Passed By

LONDON, June 3.—Good music finds few patrons in England
these days, according to Sir Landon Ronald, one of England's most distinguished musicians.
Sir Landon has sixty concerts a week, but only 2 per cent of them pay, according to Sir Landon. He blames the impres-arios for not making concerts attractive, or concert halls comfortable.

LUMBER SALES

CHICAGO, June 3.—Lumber sales show a seasonal expansion, with an increase of 7.7 per cent in sales, in this district the last month. Prices, though, are weaker.

RENT SURVEY IN GLENDALE URGED

Realtors Discuss Plans for General Meeting Next
Tuesday on Matter

A survey to determine equitable and just rentals for Glendale business property, declared to be so high at the present time that many firms wishing to locate here are being kept out of the city, was advocated in a report presented to the Glendale Realty board today noon by Charles T. Guthrie, representing a special investigating body in the matter of high rents and vacant business properties here.

As a result of the report, representatives of a dozen civic organizations will be requested to meet jointly with the realty board a week from today noon to thrash the matter of high rents out and to determine upon plans for such to survey.

President William L. Twining of the board flayed landlords who are holding out for "exorbitant rents" as a detriment to Glendale.

Speak On Bonds
The realty board endorsed the proposed $150,000 bond issue for a Memorial temple in Glendale
after John D. Fraser and Rev. C.
M. Norton, representing the American Legion, Spanish War
Veterans and G. A. R., had addressed the realty board members.

The board will urge all members to vote at the bond election scheduled for June 16. Members of the board were asked by President Twining to support the school bonds.

Committee reports were made by Peter Hanson, Arthur Campbell, J. M. Boland, Max Woods, William L. Truitt, E. P. Hayward, James Pearson, W. P.
Hope, H. H. Voelker, E. Leora
Foor and Charles Guthrie.

The appointment of Peter Hanson as a delegate to the national convention, along with William L. Truitt, was confirmed by the board's action.

CAR DEALERS ARE TOLD OF TRAFFIC

Glendale Association Meeting at Oakmont Hear Local Plans Outlined

Members of the Glendale Motor Car Dealers' association, meeting at the Oakmont Country club today noon, heard plans of the Glendale Traffic commission explained in detail by James W.
Everington, secretary of the commission. Mr. Everington told of proposed action to speed up the traffic in the business section under a rapid transit plan.

One of the biggest problems before the commission, he told the dealers, was the elimination of the "bottle neck" at San Fernando road and Brand boulevard, as a means of making San Fernando a better thoroughfare to Los Angeles. The commission intends to prevent streets being torn up while construction work is under way, he said.

White Is Heard
Richardson D. White, superintendent of schools, spoke on the Memorial hall bond issue to be voted on June 16, and said that it was planned to have an auditorium in the proposed building large enough to accommodate the annual automobile show. He explained the need of such a building, and told how little the taxes would be increased if the bond issue were voted.

A letter from Glendale post No.
127, American Legion, asking the indorsement of the dealers on the Merchants' exposition, to be held here June 15 to 20, was read. No action was taken in the matter, however, as the dealers felt their activities along this line was contered in the annual automobile show. President William Tanner presided at the meeting.

Mummification Costs Egypt Nice Tidy Sum

CHICAGO, June 3.—Ancient Egypt expended a total of $42-$20,000,000 for the mummification of its dead, according to Harry G. Samson of Pittsburgh, official of the National Selected Morticians, in an address here.

"Embalming, as practiced by the Egyptians is supposed to have originated about 2000 B. C.," said Mr.
Samson, "and was discontinued in 700 A. D. It is estimated that between these dates 42,000,000 bodies were mummified, an average of 155,000 yearly. Rawlinson, historian, calculates that 130,000
belonged to the lower classes, 20,000 to the middle class, 5000 to the rich, noble and royal classes.
